HOLLYWOOD—A star like Glenn Ford just doesn't "happen" to take off for Europe so we learn he's meeting with William Saroyan in Paris about his screenplay, "The Oldest Story," which Glenn will star in and produce thru his Newton Productions.

When everything falls into place, producer Sam Spiegel will have William Holden, Peter O'Toole, Marion Brando and Warren Beatty for his revived thriller, "The Chase." AND there's one role for a young girl who will be a star the next day when you see how she handles ALL four men!

Producer Joe Levine just set a record shooting schedule of 25 days in order to complete the pilot for his "Hercules" TV series at ABC. Gordon Scot will continue in the role which starts filming in Rome and Yugoslavia August 6. At the rate of 25 days for one hour of TV film, it could take TWO years to get one TV season of shows!

Comedy writer Milton Rosen, currently penning "Do Not Disturb" for Doris Day, knows a producer who is so uncertain of everything he won't even make out a will, just a maybe!

Ferrante & Teicher, the pianists who make "Movie Themes That Gleam," have just been signed to tickle the ivories directly for the movie of "Rage to Live."

Stuart Whitman quietly making nothing but movies and money — at present in London with "Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines" — moves into the ranks of the Lancasters, Pecks and Waynes when he starts his B&W Productions with "The Promoter" to follow "His Brother's Keeper."

The "Sandpiper" budget is gently getting some trimming. The first such is the elimination of the Corsica location!

Columbia studios moves to Paramount! Vivien Leigh's "Ship of Fools" needs an extra large stage available for some special scenes and Paramount is only too happy to oblige. . . .

The two stars of "The Favor"—Leslie Caron and Rock Hudson—hadn't met till Rock heard, "Hi, I'm Leslie" out her car window at a Sunset Blvd. stop light! They start their movie next week.

Carter DeHaven (Gloria DeHaven's dad) jets for Paris talks with Jean Gabin about playing the patriarch of a Napa, California Valley wine czar in "If This Be My Harvest."

Inger Stevens applies for a visitor's permit to Russia after she finishes taping "Inger in Sweden"—a tour of her homeland.

SERGIO FRANCHI is swinging from the long-hair Red Seal to the upbeat Black Seal with his a wow of an album called "The Exciting Voice of . . ."

Harve Presnell, co-star of "Unsinkable Molly Brown," makes his dramatic film debut in "The Glory Boys" (new title for the awful one, "Dice of God") with Tom Tryon and Angie Dickinson.

Abbe Lane, now that she's free and clear of all entanglements, has just signed in with the Warner Bros.-Reprise company that is partly owned by Frank Sinatra.

The Mr. Novak executives are thinking that Jim Francis needs a little "humanizing" so they have worked out a segment wherein actress Davey Davison gets much too interested in her teacher so that Novak gets her all involved in the school play, Ibsen's "A Doll House," to get her off his back.

It's just not a good day for the Martin Landaus! Martin is getting burned at the stake for his movie, "The Hallelujah Trail," and his wife Barbara Bain is getting slammed from one wall to another for "Perry Mason."

Wayne Newton was up in arms over a Buffalo newspaper ad that was offering his hair for sale! When Wayne started some checking, he learned the local barber was raising money for the local orphanage so Wayne is going back for additional trimming to the barber he just happened to use one day while on tour in Buffalo!
